EDWED AND PUBLISHED BY T. CRAWFORD MACDOWELL.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 22, 187.

HIS MAJESTY THE KING returned from Maui to Iolani Palace on Thursday morning last, in good health. On Friday, the 17th inst., at 11 o'clock A. M. His Majesty gave audience to His Excellency General J. M. Comly, U. S. Minister Resident, to welcome the latter's return to his post of duty after a brief absence in the States At 12:30 P. M. the same day His Majesty received His Excellency H. A. P. Carter, H. H. M.'s Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Empire of Germany, who took his leave of His Majesty on his contemplated return to his post at Berlin. His Majesty left again on board the steamer Lebus for Maui on Friday evening, the 17th

To be Absent.

We learn that it is the intention of his honor A. F. Judd. First Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the Hawaiian Islands, to go East by the next steamer for San Francisco, to be absent for the winter. Justice Judd has not been absent from his post for any length of time in the past five years, during all which time he has been occupied with his official duties. Such a strain upon the mental and physical man as five years continuous labor in such a climate as ours induces, is only understood by those who have experienced it, and therefore we do not wonder rement Land known as Manajo his honor Justice Judd requires rest and recreation. We can say for Justice Judd that he is a patient, conscientious, pains-taking judicial officer of much promise, who enjoys the entire confidence of the bench, the bar, and the people generally of this Kingdom. We hope he may have a pleasant sojourn in the States, and ell be soid at public auction, at the front entrace of return to his home and post of duty recuperated and equipped for a long life of usefulness,

Her Birthday.

Friday the 17th inst., was the anniversary of the fourth birthday of the Princess Vicro-BIA-KAWERIU-KAIULANI-LUNALILO-KALAN INUIAHILAPALAPA, daughter of the Hon. A. S. Cleghorn and the Princess Likelike, on which occasion there was a pleasant party of friends at the residence of the parents. His Majesty the King, and other relatives and friends were present to congratulate the infant Princess and her parents on the occasion, and a scene of festivity usual at such times was indulged in to the delight of the guests. We trust the young Princess may be spared to her parents and friends, and that she may grow up to be an ornament to society and a blessing to her country. The young Princess is a fine healthy, promising child in whose future are bound up many hopes, and although not of full royal blood, she is a representative of a race whose history is interesting and inafrect whose history is interesting and instructive.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

In Union Square in this city there is an establish motto is "Throw physic to the dogs." The place is called the "Blanchard Parlors" and the company is known as the "Food Cure Company." A young lady behind a counter retails milk, and a brown colored fluid from a bottle labeled "Life Food,"—a sponnful of the brown colored fluid to a tumbler of milk,—price of the complete mixture ten cents. She milk,—price of the complete mixture ten cents. She it cannot have been dealed, that seem of the milk is in this view that I would arge the application of the principle of the necessity for performed and supervision by the appents of planters who are dependent upon them for advances.

Three ommon and frequent answer made is that the planter's self-interest will make bim as careful as he can be. This may be the case and it may not be. of the "Food," and sometimes enlarges upon the relative merits of sundry kinds of unpalatable little biscuits which adorn the counter. The "Life Food," the second properties of uncans depend. can also discourse glibly on the wonderful properties biscuits which adorn the counter. The "Life Food," (with various other mixtures, and with the assistance of those little nasty biscuits) is to revolutionize the should feel that the re-possibility of the work or enwhole practice of therapeuties, at least so says the terprise is upon him, and that his management leading spirit of the concern, Virgil W. Blanchard, should not be interfered with unless for very good reasons. But that can in no way conflict with the Bisuchard, M. D. !—there is something imposing in the roll of that name, something eminently calculated to induce confidence and to silence scepticism. It is M. D., and I suppose that Virgil knows. Virgil W.

not be otherwise. There is no implication of dis-honesty. It cannot be denied that a man is atimua great thing to have a grand full-sounding name, beginning classically and ending professionally. Virgil lated and helped by frequent and careful inspecti W. evidently thinks so himself. He admires his name of his work by those who have a right to make such so much that he cannot see it or hear it too often. We have the "Blanchard Food Cure," the "Blanchard Parlors" and the "Blanchard Quarterly." Picking up from a heap on the counter a copy of the "Quarterly," one is both startled and gratified to CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC find that the modern Virgil is also a poet. From the Hawaiian Charge d'Affaires at Paris, Mr. Martin, have been received a fall set of anatomical figures, representing the difference or component parts of the human body and viscora. The figures are accompanied with explanatory plates of great value. These highly intoresting and valuable articles were on exhibition at the late Paris International Exposition, and are the gift of His Majesty has caused to be forwarded to the Prince the decoration and diploms of Grand Officer of the Royal Order of Kalakuan.

The Progress of Little Greece.

Although we do not often hear anything about Greece or he history now-a-days, it is interesting to note the fact that that country is in a state of prosperity, and that the roppulation is on the increase, as is shown by the following principe, embracing, statistical figures which prove that within the past half century which prove that within the past half century which is the Kingdom has given evidence of vitality that but few know anything about.
